Basics to Ethics of Surgical Oncology: Comprehensive, Cutting edge, Compelling
Dear Colleagues,

It gives us great pleasure in inviting the members of the surgical oncology fraternity to the 34th annual conference of the Indian Association of Surgical Oncology, the NATCON 2021. The conference would be held virtually on October 23-24 & 30-31, 2021. This annual conference is being held after two years and that too on a completely virtual platform. The Organising Committee of the NATCON 2021, has spotted this as an opportunity and is working hard to ensure a threefold bonanza on scientific content at less than one third registration fee.

The best minds of the surgical oncology world would be sharing their insights, expertise and skills with the delegates, and equip to handle real life challenges. We are confident that NATCON 2021 will prove to be the watershed event, to accelerate organ-based specialisation, expertise, data collection and research to serve our patients in every nook and corner in this part of the world.

We are particularly committed to enthuse and engage with the young surgeon in you. There are unlimited opportunities to compete and win prizes. Share your approach, skills, team work and data to dazzle and contribute to the new world. The industry partners are also excited to launch several new products on these four days.

During the last decade, we have seen huge growth in all aspects of cancer treatment. On the medical side, multimodal treatment has evolved to help find better solutions. The integration of genetic, molecular and immunological knowledge has taken cancer care into the next orbit. The tools in operation theatres have changed. Integration of technology and artificial intelligence software, is making complex procedures safer and pushing our limits further. This has led to redefining surgical oncology and surgical oncologists.

NATCON 2021 would provide a comprehensive, cutting edge, compelling surgical oncology bonanza which you cannot afford to miss. It will help each surgical oncologist to update and emerge in a new avatar. For daily updates, feedbacks, sharing ideas and registration log on to www.natconiaso2021.com.
